MILLERS GIANT FLOWERING DELPHINIUMS.

These new early giant flowering Delphiniums are the result of cross-pollination of a large type of Delphinium Belladonna and the giant flowering Wrexham, or Hollyhock strain. They bloom early like the Belladonna, but have the same general character of growth that has distinguished the famous Wrexham type,

Many of my plants grow 5 to 8 feet tall and carry immense big spikes, with 2 to 3½ feet of bloom, flowers measuring 2 to 2½ inches across.

These new Delphiniums come in a wide range of beautiful new shades of blue rich purple, mauve orchid, rose pink, rosy magenta, sapphire and white, many with wonderful two tone effects, some have very attractive centers of white, yellow, gold brown, tan and black.

Delphiniums can be successfully planted either in the fall or early spring, (plant 18 in. each way). They thrive well in any good garden soil.

A Stock of these Plants can be easily raised from Seeds.
